INDUSTRY ASKED AID UNEMPLOYMENT

BRONZED VETERAN RETURNS TO POST IN WASHINGTON

COL. WOODS BEGINS SERIES OF CONFERENCES ON UNEMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A call to American industry to co-operate in the alleviation of suffering among unemployed this winter was sounded today by Col. Arthur Woods, president Hoover's relief director, after a conference at the White House.

Col. Woods, who arrived here last night to take charge of setting up a relief organization, conferred for an hour with the president, Secretary Lamont, Secretary Hurley and Under-Secretary Mills of the treasury.

After the conference Woods indicated a formal request to industry to co-operate in giving as many jobs as possible would be made soon.

The conferees said the first definite step would be to set up an organization for Woods and then to seek information on where jobs can be found.

They said they would draft men qualified for the work from all over the country and if possible would obtain those men who worked with Col. Woods in his unemployment relief work in 1921 under President Harding.

Colonel Woods said thus far inexpected more co-operation in the dustry was doing its part, but he general campaign.

"I not only expect industry to do its part," he said, "but I see that it is already doing so."

Starts Organization Work.

Headquarters for the administrator of unemployment relief will be established in the commerce department. Members of

NORTH CAROLINA HIGH SCHOOL BOYS BEATEN TO DEATH

STILL ALIVE YOUTHS FOUND IN EMBERS OF ARKANSAS CAMP FIRE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The battered and burned bodies of two North Carolina high school students lay today in a morgue, apparently victims of assailants who beat them severely and placed them on a pyre formed by embers of an Arkansas swamp campfire.

Both died in a hospital last night without regaining consciousness. Their skulls had been crushed.

The boys were identified by notes and a diary found in their pockets as Burton Hensley and Woodrow S. Wilson of the little town of Bald Creek in the mountains of North Carolina. Advices from Bald Creek said they left their homes eight days ago presumably on a hitch-hiking trip to the west.

Discovery of the two youths, their bodies seared by the flames of the still burning campfire, was made by two wood choppers late yesterday.

First reports that the boys left their home in North Carolina in an automobile caused authorities of Crittenden county, Arkansas, where the bodies were found, to lean to a belief that they were slain by tramps to obtain possession of their car. Later advices said they were without a definite theory as to the motive which prompted the slaying.

Notes found in Hensley's pocket were signed "Irene" and were posted at Day Brook, N. C. The diary which was Wilson's and a copy of a poem of the west were the only other identifying marks found. Neither had any money in his clothing. The ground about the camp place showed signs of a struggle and tracks of an automobile tire.

The two planes brushed against each other while rounding the home pylon at the American Legion All-Eastern Air Meet at Trenton, N. J. Ten thousand horified spectators watched the double tragedy which brought death to Mackie and Zinn.

FAMOUS AVIATORS TALKED HALF WAY AROUND THE WORLD

RADIO TELEPHONE USED BY KINGSFORD-SMITH AND RITTERSBACKER

SCHENECTADY, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Two famous aviators, Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith the Australian who has flown around the world, and Eddie Rickenbacker, premier American war ace, talked with each other by radio telephone, half way around the globe, today. The conversation was broadcast by WGY and the stattions composing the blue net work of the National Broadcasting company.

Atmospheric conditions were excellent.

Rickenbacker asked the Australian whatwas the most necessary for establishment of trans-continental and trans-oceanic air service. Kingsford-Smith said in his opinion the first thing needed was a plane with a cruising speed of better than 150 miles an hour. Rickenbacker told the Australian that a plane had been designed recently with a cruising speed of more than 170 miles per hour.

Kingsford-Smith said he intended to devote his time and energy to the business of air transpirt. Within a year, he said, an air service would be in operation between Australia and Tasmania, and he predicted that within five years there would be passenger service and transpirt lines making the trip between London and Sydney in 12 days.

Workman Falls 175 Feet From Sydney Bridge

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 23.—(AP)—While working on the great new Sydney harbor bridge, said to be the world's largest arch bridge, a workman named Kelly fell 175 feet into the harbor.

He hurtled down feet first and as he struck the water a column of spray 20 feet high shot into the air. Kelly swam ashore not much worse for his experience and is now wondering whether he established a high plunge record.

So far as is known here the record heretofore has rested with Steve Brodie, who immortalized his name by jumping off the Brooklyn bridge, 133 feet above the waters of the East river.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CLOSES TESTIMONY IN I. C. C. HEARING

COUNSEL FOR PROPONENTS ASKS INTERVENING ROADS QUESTIONS

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Southern Pacific railway today concluded testimony in support of its application for the right to buy control of the Cotin Belt. The applicatin is being heard by Thomas F. Sullivan, examiner for the interstate commerce commission.

Ben Day, counsel for the Southern Pacific, turned on the Missouri Pacific and that road's talk of the continuation of existing traffic interchange, by suggesting that the Missouri Pacific bind itself to keep open present routes.

"As long as the Missouri Pacific and Texas and Pacific are asking the commission to force us to maintain the present interchange, we are entitled to know whether they are willing to accept a similar condition," Day said. "Also we would like to know when they plan to open the 180 gateways which have been closed.

Two Cleburne Youths Held in Farmer's Death

FORT WORTH, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Two Cleburne youths, one 16, and the other 17, remained in jail here today for further questioning in connection with the killing of J. C. Canvender, 63, tenant farmer, who was found dead Monday night in a granary on his farm at Bireville, near here. His skull had been crushed and a cord was tied tightly about his throat.

The youths were arrested yesterday. Another boy told police the pair had confided to him that they borrowed a horse from a farmer near Bireville. When Canvener's body was found, a horse was missing from the farm. It was found later, several miles distant. Canvender's watch and money also were missing.

FEMININE PAUL REVERES RIDING THROUGH ILLINOIS SEEKING WOMEN'S RIGHTS

BY RUTH BALDWIN COWNA

CHICAO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The feminine Paul Reveres of 1930 are riding through every Illinois village and farm to spread the gospel of another "woman's right."

On election day the voters, men and women alike, will stratch the hundreds of thousands of little X marks that will grant or withhold from Illinois women equal rights with men in the sanction jury service for women. jury box.

Twenty-one other states already and even if Illinois votes in the affirmative the home state of Lincoln, the emancipator, will be just 4,130 years late in putting the first woman on a jury; for history recites that feminine jurors date back to the Babylonia of 2200 B. C.

Sliding over the dark ages intervening, the current historian finds Illinois and Missouri alone in the middle west, still turning negative thumb upon woman jurors. Abroad, Germany, Norway, Sweden and England have approved their service.

At present, by virtue of a supreme court decision, women are classed in Illinois with aliens, convicts and the mentally and morally unfit as ineligible for juries. The Women's Bar association of Illinois and the Leage of Women voters, disliking the company, started the propaganda for an amendment of the statues in 1923 and after four rebuffs in the state general assembly a referendum was adopted and the question of rewriting the jury act was submitted to the electorate for vote November 4.

Kellogg Presided World Court Meet

THE HAGUE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Frank Kellogg, former United States secretary of state, newly-elected judge of the world court, presided at a sitting of that body today when litigation between France and Switzerland over the free zones of Haute Savoie and pays De Grex was considered.

The court president, M. Anzilotti, welcomed Mr. Kellogg with thanks for the unreserved manner in which he placed himself at the court's disposal.

BIG LAKE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The trial of W. B. Clark, charged with the slaying of E. A. Birdwell at McCamey two years ago, was continued today on account of absence of witnesses.

Clark was sentenced to 35 years imprisonment at his first trial, but the verdict was reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals.

DENVER WOMAN HAS CONFESSED MURDER OF STEP-DAUGHTER

LONG GRILLING OF MRS. PEARL O'LAUGHLIN ENDED EARLY THURSDAY

DENVER, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Captain of Detectives Bert Clark announced today that Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin after prolonged questioning, had admitted she alone was to blame for the death of her ten year old step-daughter, Leona, whose mutilated body was found in the Berkeley Park lake October 14.

Clark said that he had obtained the admission from Mrs. O'Loughlin after a grilling of six and a half hours. The woman's iron nerve broke and she was carried to her cell in the matron's quarters of the city jail on the verge of a complete mental and physical breakdown.

Captain Clark declined to comment on details of the confession.

"Neither Mrs. O'Laughlin nor myself was in condition to go into details when her admission came," Captain Clark declared. "I expect to get a more detailed statement from her later on, when she has had time to collect herself."

Captain Clark, worn out himself by the strain of the protracted questioning, went to his home.

The admission of Mrs. O'Loughlin concluded her sixth extended questioning by officers, one session having been at the bier of the dead child. Yesterday afternoon she was grilled at the police station by her own husband, a member of the city detective squad.

Hour after hour, Captain Clark kept questioning the woman throughout last night. Occasionally hysterical denials of the woman could be heard faintly from the captain's office. Finally, in the early morning the captain

THREE LEADING BRITISH STATESMEN CRITICISE NEW POLICY TOWARDS PALESTINE

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Stanley Baldwin, Sir Austen Chamberlain, and Col. L. C. S. Amery in a letter to the London Times today severely criticized the MacDonald ministry's new policy toward Palestine as advanced in a statement by Lord Passfield, secretary of state for the colonies Monday.

The letter of the three men, two of whom are the leading figures in the British Conservative party opposition, concludes: "It is only too evident that the effect of the white paper upon public opinion of the American Jewry and elsewhere is to create a feeling of distrust in British good faith, which is the most precious asset of our foreign imperial policy."

The outright opposition of the Conservative leaders, who held the posts of premier, foreign minister and minister of the colonies in the last government, coming at a time when a new general election threatens, may prove an important factor in political developments of the next few weeks.

The signatories say they are profoundly conscious of the two-fold obligation, toward the Arabs as well as the Jews, which was embodied in the mandate and has provided the basis of the policy since pursued by every British government in turn.

"What we regret is that His Majesty's government would appear now to have abandoned that policy," the letter says.

Says Mandate Betrayal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Judge Harry M. Fisher, president of the Zionist organization in America, said in a statement today that the new Palestine policy of Great Britain was a "betrayal" of its mandate from the League of Nations.

Jewry will continue to fight for establishment of the Jewish homeland in the Holy Land, Fisher said, and he predicted that "with the help of the nations constituting the league," the creative force now in operation in Palestine will continue" and the terms of the mandate will ultimately be carried out.

Before the Jews returned to the cradle of their race, said the Zionist president, "it had been so neglected that nothing but bare rock remained." The land in the past ten years has been restored to fertility, disease conquered and modern methods of farming and modern modes of living introduced, he said.

British announcement of restriction of Jewish immigration to prevent Arab unemployment, Fisher said, amounted to a breaking of Great Britain's promises.

Moving Time Means New Furniture Time

There's no better time than just before moving day to check up home equipment and see what is needed. Possibly the dining room suite, while still useful, doesn't look as handsome as you'd like. Maybe the youngsters have grown until they're big enough to have rooms of their own. Also a new davenport may work wonders in the appearance of the living room.

It's a waste of time, effort and money to move furniture that will have to be replaced in a few months.

Now is a good time to look over your home furnishings with a critical eye, see what must be replaced, and then study the remarkable values in the new designs which Corsicana furniture stores are displaying.

RUTH HANNA M'CORMICK IS OBJECT OF CIRCULARS SENT OUT TO CHICAGO NEGROES

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick today pointed to unsigned circulars she said had been sent to negro voters as vindication of her claim to complete lack of political alliance with Mayor William Hale Thompson.

In a formal statement last night, the senate campaigner said that she had been advised that Mayor Thompson, leader of the Republican group known as the city hall forces, was responsible for distribution of the circulars, which urged negro voters to support her Democratic opponent, former Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

Her statement added that she had been informed the circulars contained a "malicious and unjustifiable attack upon her late husband, Medill McCormick.

"While I regret that the announcement of the mayor's opposition to me was not made more openly and regret that it is based on a malicious and unjustifiable attack on my late husband, I am pleased," said the McCormick statement, "that the mayor's attitude is thus definitely disclosed.

"His action will, I am sure, throw a new light on my own political associations, which have been generally misrepresented in the hostile press for the last two years."

The statement continued: "I have repeatedly said publicly that I never had a political alliance with Mayor Thompson." She added that the circular appealed for votes for all Republican candidates except Mrs. McCormick and cited this as evidence of "Mayor Thompson's animosity" toward her.

DEMOCRATIC RULE IN ALABAMA FACES SERIOUS MENACE

—MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 23.—(AP)—After more than three decades of unquestioned dominance in Alabama, the Democratic party this year has opposition, not from its traditional enemy, the Republican party, but from a ticket of "Jeffersonians" headed by Senator J. Thomas Heflin.

GANG LEADER IS RELEASED AFTER CASH BAIL MADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—George (Bugs) Moran, former Northside gang leader, was a free man today, temporarily at least.

He was about to be taken from the criminal court building yesterday to a cell in the county jail to await a further hearing before Judge John H. Lyle for vagrancy when an unidentified friend furnished $10,000 in cash for his release on bond.

A telephone call to Attorney Henry L. Kane, counsel for the Central Cleaners and Dyers, of which Moran claims to be vice-president, confirmed the report of his release.

"Yes, Moran is out," Kane said, "someone took $10,000 in cash to the office of Clerk James A. Kearns of the municinal court and all Moran had to do was to sign his name."

Judge Lyle had set 5 p. m., today for resumption of Moran's hearing, which he had continued pending examination of Moran's record, which he said was "as long as the Delaware river."

Moran was arrested last Tuesday at a resort near Antioch, Ill., and returned here on the vagrancy charge, and for questioning in connection with the slaying last June of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter.

INDUSTRIAL HEADS PAINT OPTIMISTIC PICTURE OF FUTURE

AGRICULTURE REPORTED AT TURN; OTHER CONDITIONS FAVOROBLE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A picture of optimism for the economic future was laid before the American people today by the conference here of leaders of major industries in the United States.

While there will be no spectacular recovery of business, in the opinion of speakers at the conference, the "turning point" has been reached and this in itself was described as a step toward a more solid future.

The conference, the seventh of its kind held under auspices of the University of Chicago and the American Institute of Meat Packers, was attended by more than 40 of the nation's chief industrialists, business men, educators and others.

L. J. Tabor, master of the National Grange, said: "Agriculture is at the turn of the road. Despite drought and the decline in prices, the farmer has learned to look less to government and congress and more to himself."

Organization of agriculture, establishment of a farmer-owned and controlled merchandising system, and equality of taxation, were advocated by Tabor as means of restoring the farmer's purchasing power.

NEGRO WILL SIT IN "THE CHAIR" IF CLEMENCY FAILS

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Governor Dan Moody said today he probably would commute the sentence of Monty Jackson, negro slayer sentenced to die in the electric chair at Huntsville tonight. He said he planned to read the statement of facts this afternoon, following which his final announcement would be made.

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Morty Jackson, a negro will be executed here early tomorrow for murder, unless clemency is extended.

Jackson, convicted of killing Night Watchman E. C. Cornelius in Simonton, Fort Bend county, on the night of June 19, 1929, was to have been put to death a week ago with Joyce Shepard, but a week's reprieve saved him.

Cornelius was shot in attempting to quiet a group of negroes sitting in a parked automobile Governor Moody said a week ago that the sentence probably will be commuted to life imprisonment, but nothing further had been heard from him at the prison, and preparations for the electrocution went forward.

Man Hurled Many Feet By Boiler Blast Is Unhurt

PAMPA, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Edward Maples landed in a soft mud hole last night, when a boiler he was firing at an oil well test near here blew up. His body was sent 75 yards through the air before it found the mud cushion. Taking stock of himself after he wiped the mud from his eyes, Maples thanked his stars he had not been more seriously hurt than bruised and cut slightly.

Several of the flying boiler parts severed a high line, cutting off Pampa's light service until an emergency power plant here could be rigged up.

POLICE PROBING TWO MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING AFFAIRS

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Police today were investigating two mysterious shootings which claimed one life and placed a second victim at the door of death.

Willam C Wentworth, 17, son of C. W. Wentworth, was dead of a shot fired late Wednesday near the Aransas filling station. He died almost instantly. A pistol was found at his side.

The second victim was Thomas Sanchez, 29, a farm worker, who was near death by a charge from a shotgun.

The shot was fired on the A. P. Gimbler ranch seven miles from the city. Mrs. Sanchez told Justice of the Peace R. W. Stappenbeck she was awakened by a shot in the farm yard about 4:30 a. m. Thursday.

A second shot followed, and a few minutes later Sanchez staggered blindly in the doorway.

A shotgun with both barrels discharged was found in the farm-yard. A long butcher knife lay beside the gun. A note also was found saying that "No one is to blame for this but me."

Mrs. Sanchez said that the wounded man had been despondent.

GALVESTON NEGRO SENTENCED DEATH ON ASSAULT CHARGE

GALVESTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A jury here last night found Joshua Riles, negro, guilty of criminal assault on a white woman, last March, and fixed his punishment at death. It was the first time the death penalty had been assessed here in 25 years.

Riles was given a 10-year penitentiary sentence last week on a charge of attempted robbery of a young telephone operator, who testified he seized her as she was returning home late at night and dragged her into an alley, but was frightened away when she screamed.

At the preliminary hearings of the two cases, there were threats of mob violence but a crowded courtroom last night heard the sentence without demonstration.

NEW INCINERATOR PLACED IN SERVICE THURSDAY MORNING

MODERN PLANT WILL CARE FOR CITY'S NEEDS FOR MANY YEARS

Corsicana's modern incinerator, recently completed at a cost of approximately $27,000, was formally placed in service Thursday morning and was functioning according to the best expectations at noon in spite of the handicap of very wet trash.

Placing the new garbage disposal plant in operation marks the completion of the second of five improvements authorized last November by the issuance of $400,000 in municipal bonds.

The plant is housed in a brick building 52x32 feet, built on two levels on a tract of city property just east of the city barns on the Chatfield road. A graveled road leads from the pavement up a long ramp to the upper level of the building where the trash is dumped into the two big furnaces from the top, by means of special mechanical devices and electric hoists. The trucks, continue on through the building and make a short loop to return to the main road.

On the lower level the two big furnaces which have a consumption of forty tons of garbage in ten hours, or slightly more than 110 tons for a twenty-four hour period, taking advantage of the fifteen per cent overload which they can accommodate.

The furnaces are of the reverberatory type and all of the trash and all disagreeable odors are burned under a forced draught, resulting from the heat of the furnace. A stack eighty feet above the ground level affords an additional draught and sufficient combustion room to burn all of the debris, small fragments tossed by the strong draught and also a majority of the gasses from the fire.

Caid C. Carson, contractor for the incinerator, said Thursday that after the furnace was once heated to the proper point that it would be unnecessary to rekindle a fire each morning.

Harve Farmer will be in charge of the new plant, and is being instructed in the operation methods by Mr. Carson.

A general invitation was extended to the public to visit the plant but because of the inclement weather it is expected that another "house-warming" date will be set soon.

Christian Endeavor To Conduct Service

Regular services for Sunday evening, Oct. 26, of the First Christian church will be conducted by the Christian Endeavor societies, the young people being in charge. An interesting program is being prepared, and the public is cordially invited to be in attendance.

RETAIL MERCHANTS LOCAL SECRETARY AT STATE MEETING

Miss Hazel Darling, secretary of the Corsicana Retail Merchants Association, returned from San Antonio Wednesday where she attended the annual meeting of the secretaries of the Texas Retail Merchants Association at the Gunter Hotel.

The Corsicana secretary was a guest of the president of the association at the annual banquet, and reports a very enjoyable program of business and entertainment.

Among the outstanding speakers for the session were Guy Hulse of St. Louis, secretary of the National Retail Credit Association; Carl Mueller of Austin, chairman of the board of the Texas association and others.

The annual meeting of the Texas association open to all members will be held at Lubbock, in May 1931.

A report of the San Antonio meeting will be presented to the directors of the Corsicana association next Tuesday evening at the regular monthly session.

Among the new requirements of the secretaries' organization is one requiring each member to take an efficiency examination. Miss Darling will take her examination in the near future.

NATION WILL BE GIVEN EDUCATION ON PROHIBITION

BUSINESS MEN'S PROHIBITION FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES OBJECTIVE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A nationwide program of education in behalf of prohibition was announced today by the American Business Men's Prohibition foundation. Charles R. Jones, chairman, said a budget of $10,000,000 would be raised for newspaper and other advertising.

"More than 100 years of tireless education preceeded the adoption of the eighteeth amendment," Jones said, "But with the ratification of the amendment by 46 of the 48 states, practically all educational effort ceased.

"People forget quickly; they must be told over and over again. Moreover, during these past ten years following the advent of prohibition, something like twelve or thirteen million voters have come of age who were children when the amendment was enacted; this younger generation has been given very little serious instruction in the meaning and possibilities of the eighteenth amendment."

Jones said the foundation was formed under a "not for profit" charter last January as a result of the growing realization of the need for education on prohibition. He said the organization first assembled statistics on the effects of prohibition and that it now was ready to pass the facts on to the people. He added that the plans had been approved by Amos W. W. Woodcock, director of the U. S. bureau of prohibition.

The foundation lists as members of its advisory board nationally known men from all sections of the country.

DROUGHT CONDITION STILL CONTINUES IN MID-ATLANTIC AREA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Drought conditions were reported today by the department of agriculture to have continued generally over the Middle Atlantic area during the past week, with additional rain needed in the northeast.

In the Ohio Valley, water for livestock and domestic purposes was still scarce. In parts of Kentucky and Ohio the scarcity constituted a serious problem.

At the same time generous rains were reported to have relieved conditions in New Jersey and Southeastern Pennsylvania, while beneficial amounts were helpful in New York and New England, with moderate falls in parts of Virginia and Eastern North Carolina.

Precipitation for the week was rather widely distributed, but was mostly light to moderate.

"The abnormally cold weather, with hard freezes in much of the north," the report continued, "did more or less damage to late gardens and truck over the northern half of the country, but staple crops were generally matured and out of danger.

"Considerable loss of undug potatoes was reported from the Northern Great Plainns, as well as some damage to apples in the opper Mississippi Valley.

Plowing was effectively stopped by frozen ground in North Central sections, while wintry weather was unfavorable for outside work in the interior of the Northeast; otherwise, seasonal farm operations made fairly good progress."

Seeing Straight and Far Upon Prohibition Question

A Good-Tempered Summary of the Situation for the Sunday Schools; Why the Church Put Prohibition Across.

More heat than light is produced by the present world-wide discussion of the prohibition question. The issue has generally become one of partisanship and prejudice and personal advantage. So we welcome the return of the annual World's Temperance Sunday, in the churches and Sunday Schools as an opportunity to state dispassionately what seems to be the Scriptural basis for total abstinance and for the abolition of the entire traffic in strong drink.

Because of inadequate or blundering leadership, the churches have allowed themselves to be put in the public position of being fanatics, bigots, kill-joys and intolerant destroyers of other men's personal liberties.

Why Did the Churches Do It?

To get at the truth of this matter we need to consider frankly, and, if possible, sympathetically, the reasons which led church people to secure the enactment of prohibition laws. First of all, we must remember that this was no sudden, spasmodic adventure. The steadily growing temperance movement was more than a hundred years old before any prohibition law was enacted anywhere. A political party pledged to that purpose had existed in the United States for more than fifty years. In Sunday Schools, and in secular schools, the subject was regularly taught. Great temperance reformers, like father Matthew, John B. Gough, Neal Dow and Frances Willard, had become international figures. So prohibiton certainly did not sneak into the constituton in the dark, through a door accidentally left open.

What were the motives of these temperance advocates? They certainly had nothing to gain personally, in the way of new jobs, new business or institutional advantage. They were not trying to usurp control of the liquor trade for personal ends.

No: the one and only reason for the reform was the fundamentally Christian and humanitarian purpose to do good to mankind: to deliver society from an evil of such proportions that it must be dealt with on a broad scale by governments whose first obligation is to secure the well-being of their people. Like slavery, the drink traffic could no longer be dealt with peacemeal and individually: it had become an instituton so inimical to human happiness and health that it had to be treated as such. Anybody who challenges the nobility and altruism of the foes of strong drink is simply speaking outside the facts.

Getting Down to Bed Rock.

Of course, prohibition interferes with the individual's liberty to do as he pleases; and thus, it must ever be borne in mind, is no small price to pay for the end sought. So the abolition of slavery wiped out the prosperity of some slave-owners whose slaves were better off physically than they have ever been since. So do the anti-narcotic laws and the internal revenue laws. This is the toll which reasonable beings pay for living in organized society. The very heart and genius of democracy is the subordination of the individual's freedom to the welfare of the community.

Christianity enjoins this. It is the very spirit of the Gospel, as given by the Saviour who laid down his life for the sake of others. "Abstinence for the sake of others" has for decades been a stock topic of Sunday School Lessons. All disciples of Christianity live by the higher law of unselfishness. Let me quote the text of the present Lesson, as written by Paul:

"For ye, brethren, were called for freedom; only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love be servants one to another. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

"But I say, Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that he may not do the things ye wound. But if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions parties, envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like; of which I forewarn you, that they who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness self-control; against such there is no law. And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts thereof.

"If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us also walk."

If heaven ever laughs at earth, Paul must indulge in many a chuckle, as he sees the "progressive" modern world catching up to his programme. The "last word" in the temperance reform today is "economic efficiency":—alcohol hurts a man's productiveness and impairs his social value. He is being forced to give up the glass for the sake of the general welfare. I have under by hand at the moment a sparkling booklet against booze issued by a big manufacturing concern. It is of a piece with the new kind of temperancse literature. Which, after all, is but getting into tune with this Sunday School Lesson, written nineteen centuries ago. Catch the "modern" note in these phrases, "Let no man put a stumbling block in his brother's way. If thy brother be grieved with thy meat thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not him with thy meat for whom Christ died. It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth or is offended or is made weak. We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. For Christ pleased not Himself.

There you have the law, the higher Law. Society is repeating the lesson after the old apostle. With cruel blows, the world war has beaten the same truth into humanity: "No man lieth to himself, and no man dieth to himself." The old individualism of selfishness has become unendurable. As John Stuart Mill said sixty-five years ago, "My liberty ends when it begins to involve the possibility of ruin to my neighbor." Before the judgment seat of Brotherhood, which is the bar of God, strong drink has been condemned to die. Let it be remembered, however, that this Law is no new discovery of the sociologist; it was written in the New Testament before ever the word "sociology" was invented.

The Nation's Real Wealth.

War has taught the nations that real wealth is man-wealth. The richest country is the one with the greatest store of best manhood and womanhood. Whatever hurts it in the character of its youth injures a country grevi-ously. "The Christian World," of Cleveland, touches, in practical fashion upon this phase of the temperance issue: "Life insurance experts figure that each young man and woman of good habits and sound physique is an asset to the nation as a producer or conserver of wealth to the amount of $8,000. There are in the United States 50,000,000 children and young people under twenty-five years of age. At $8,000 apiece they are an asset of $400,000,000,000. In mere dollars and cents the youth of our nation are worth more than our coal, our iron, our silver, our gold; more than the cattle on a thousand hills; more than the grain from the million fields. And the legalized liquor traffic is the ruthless destroyer of youth. It begine the work of destruction before birth, handicaps boys and girls physically and morally, and renders tens of thousands not only unable to produce or conserve their of $8,000, but makes of them dependents and undesirables. an economic loss to the nation and a menace to its stability."

Of course this is no new discovery. Nearly a century and a half ago Oliver Goldsmith wrote: "In all the towns and countries I have seen, I never saw a city or a village yet, whose miseries were not in proportion to the number of its public houses. . . . Ale houses are ever an occasion of debauchery and excess, and either in the political or religious light, it would be our highest interest to have them suppressed."

ALLEGED SLAYER OF TROUP PREACHER IS GIVEN NEW TRIAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Affirming its previous find of reversible error in the trial of Loys Wilson, Smith county mechanic, sentenced to three years imprisonment for the murder of Fount Wallace, Baptist pastor, the court of criminal appeals today dismissed a motion of the state for a rehearing of the case.

Wilson was granted a new trial on a previous appeal.

Wallace was shot down on the streets of Troup by Wilson after Wilson's wife had admitted improper relations with the preacher. Walking up to the preacher, his gun in his hand, Wilson said, "prepare to meet thy God," and shot him. The slaying occurred on April 16, 1928.

Because an indictment failed to allege the ducks were wild, prosecution of Jerome Stone, Baylor county, for hunting from a power boat, was ordered dismissed. The court pointed out that while hunting wild ducks from a power boat was against the law, the indictment did not charge the ducks were wild.

No reversible error was found in the record of the appeal of S. J. Hodge, fined $125 for violating the Sunday law by keeping a picture show open on Sunday in Jones county.

The court also found all records proper and affirmed the five year verdict against Hillis Allen, convicted of an assault with intent to murder Edna Hiner in Morris county.

The five year sentence against Charlie Bohler, convicted of criminal assault in Collingsworth county, was affirmed. On motion of the appellant the appeal of Bailey Fowler from a two year sentence for murder from Mills county was dismissed. Fowler killed J. C. Barrett April 29 this year.

BORAH IS STRONG FOR RECOGNITION OF SOVIET RUSSIA

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declared without qualification for recognition of the Russian government in a campaign address last night.

"I am not afraid of communist propaganda," he said.

"There is nothing the people of the United States reject more quickly, when they know what it is, than they do communist doctrine," he said.

"If I had my way I would trade with every country in the world. I know in due time we will recognize the government of Russia. We don't do it now because that would be regarded in some quarters as an endorsement of the communistic doctrine.

"No one has less use for the doctrine than I, but I believe that Russia, in pursuing her present policy, will work out something in the nature of a sane Democracy."

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE.

Protection against fire does not lie alone in highly-trained hosemen, shining chemical engines and inexhaustible water supplies. Safety against fire lies far back of that, in straight-out, hard thinking—in precaution, the highest form of caution, in anticipation, the highest form of creative intelligence. In avoiding loss by fire, an ounce of gray matter is better than rivers of water.

But the only thing that burns these facts home is fire itself. We can end fires some day, if we plan right, build right and utilize the proper agencies of government to safeguard us from new hazards.

In the meantime the humblest of us can protect our shop, our office, our home by using the most elementary forms of precaution.

We can be careful with matches. Matches and careless smokers are responsible for a loss of $90,000,000 in a recent five-year period. We can be careful with electricity, avoid cheap fittings and improper connections. Electricity was responsible for an $85,000,000 loss in the same period. We can be careful with stoves, furnaces, chimneys and flues. We can remember not to pile rubbish and litter in our cellars. Rubbish piles cost us three-quarters of a million dollars a year. We can banish the open light. We pay a million and a half every twelve months for the privilege of its treacherous inefficiency.

EXAMPLE.

There is a class of educators whose threatened disappearance is apparently not so imminent as popular report would make it. They are the elder children in the family who, consciously or otherwise, help to bring up the younger ones.

Although the average American family has but four members, the third and fourth children not only exist in large numbers but as an influence.

Unwittingly the elder child may be an influence for harm, as when he induces nervousness in the younger children by effort to keep up. He may be and is an influence for good, as when he supplies the companionship which the younger child craves and which a busy mother cannot always supply.

As the elder child is bent so, in most cases, will the younger child be inclined. The first born is one of the most potent of educators because he teaches by force of example. An elder child with a fondness for books will establish a tradition of seriousness in the family. An elder child who sees no purpose in study will as a rule play mischief with the school reports of younger brothers and sisters. The first-born is the natural born leader in the family younger set.

The social problem seems, therefore, to be a double one: First, to bring up well the oldest child and second to supply him or her with younger brothers and sisters to bring up.

"A survey at Rutgers shows its football players are not as good students as men not in athletics." Rutgers is one of the schools, we infer, where the coach must fall back on students.

JUST FOLKS

PROOF OF LIFE.

It's good to have a holiday and leave the tasks awhile.
It's good at times to take a rest and drop behind a mile,
But who has nothing left to care
And not another mile to fare
Gets little pleasure from a day,
though skies are bright overhead;
Who has no dream he must pursue,
No future task he wants to do,
No need whnch he alone can serve might just as well be dead.

It's good at times to wake at dawn to face an idle day,
To spurn the working tools of life and spend the hours in play.
But who has finished every task
Which life of him will ever ask
Will find the path of pleasure is a dreary road to tread;
Who sees no cause which he can aid,
No further progress to be made,
No wrong to right, no ill to cure
—might just as well be dead.

Not long for living men is rest—
tomorrow needs us all.
While we can hear and see and think on us the world will call;
To suffer pain and hear the cry
For help from others passing by,
To long for rest and yet by day
for some goal to strive;
To worry, fret and grope along;
To sense the bitterness of wrong
And ache and dream and grieve and hope is proof that we're alive!

FAULTS OF JURY SYSTEM.

To the layman who thinks courts should be devoted solely to giving persons accused of crime a fair trial the business of selecting a jury must frequently seem farcical. It is conducted at times as if the purpose were to secure a panel wholly devoid of intelligence.

Where a case of any importance and public interest is on trial it seems absurd to expect people called for jury service not to have made up their minds one way or the other. But there is something lacking in the mental make-up of a man who undertakes to swear that he has an opinion on the matter which is not subject to change if evidence warranting a different opinion is produced. Of course, many talesmen set up this excuse to avoid serving on the jury, and judges who permit the evasion are largely to blame for the complaint that juries are too often composed of persons poorly equipped mentally for such important service.

A firm, resolute judge, it has been repeatedly shown, can brush aside such subterfuges and so handle these preliminary examinations as to make responsible men ashamed to seek shelter from them. Failure to do so is one of the things which give rise to criticism of the jury system, as it inevitably forces into service those least qualified to render a verdict.

Another weak spot in the system of trial by jury is the custom of distributing jury fees among that class which will vote "regular" in exchange for this petty patronage. The result is that the highest type of citizen is not summoned even though he might be willing to serve at personal sacrifice. It would be better if the law required a trial before "twelve good men, and true" that were more than the "peers" of the accused.

HANDS OFF.

Now that autumn is here, the leaves are turning various shades of red and yellow and the woods are beautiful. Some week-end motorists have found that out. They have decorated their cars with branches cut or torn from wayside trees.

It's a thoughtless thing to do. The trees need these branches much more than do the motorists. Besides, if the branches are taken from trees on private land, that's trespass; and if they are taken from trees on state land, there's a law against that, too. Some officers of the law might ask embarrassing questions.

Good citizens keep their hands off the wild flowers in spring and the gaily-colored leaves in fall. They leave Nature upspoiled and unappropriated, for the delight of all.

"The tausaygz plant of Russia," says the New York Post, "contains an unusually high percentage of rubber." With a name like that the tausagyz plant might erase itself, and start all over again.

One of the minor annoyances of autumn come when you tee off on a miniature golf course and discover that a falling leaf has obscured the putting green.

HEADED DOWNHILL

PRACTICAL CONSERVATION.

The American Tree Association estimates that 10 million Christmas trees will be cut, trimmed and cast aside this year. Wanton waste? Yes and no.

Those forest-conservationists, to whom a cut tree represents an irreparable loss to society, see in this wholesale cutting of Christmas trees a catastrophe. Their zeal for forestation prevents them from seeing good in any program of deforestation. They are unable to see the futility of all planting and no cutting.

Over the more progressive and practical-minded conservationists a great change has come in their attitude toward the Christmas tree. No more do they frown upon it or bewail the destruction that was supposed to follow in its wake. Christmas trees, they tell us, have become a valuable farm and timber crop. Thousands of farmers and others are growing these trees on land unfit for any other purpose. They replant as they cut, in order that the supply shall be continuous. This ancient Christmas custom fosters reforestation rather than obstructs it.

But without this materialistic and utilitarian consideration, this annual tree slaughter would profit more than injure mankind. It would be a barren world without its glittering Christmas trees, much more barren than the hillsides and valleys where the trees are cut, only to be replanted that they may produce another crop of joy and sunshine to brighten a winter's day for boys and girls, young and old.

IS NOTHING IMPOSSIBLE

An historic exception to one of the traditions of the federal government will be furnished by the department of the interior when it finally ceases to function, as Washington officialst say it will within a few years. It has been a tradition of the bureaucracy at Washington that, once created, departments and bureaus never die. Rather, their history has been one of ever striving for larger appropriations, more jobs for jobholders, more power, bigger buildings and more equipment.

The story of the department of the interior is different from the rest. It has seen its functions transferred, one by one, to other departments, principally the departments of agriculture and commerce. And now it nears the end of its job in administering the public lands and playing guardian to the Indian wards of the country.

The big job of the department was the disposal of the public land. That task started with 1,835,000,000 acres to be administered. Only 182,000,000 acres remain.

This precedent-setting department was first proposed shortly after the Mexican War. Its fostering law was entitled, "An act to establish the home department," after the home office of the British government.

OLD PREJUDICES OVERCOME.

Old prejudices between urban and rural people characterized a generation ago by cryptic epithets, humorous banter, and exaggerated caricatures have now disappeared in the United States and are a relic of the past, the Chief of the Service Division, L. R. Alderman, stated recently at the United States Office of Education.

Pointing out the chief causes as better communications, improved roads, moving pictures, greater travel, the coming of the radio, and the extension of educational facilities, the educator commented upon this change as follows:

Epithets like "city snob" and "country bumpkin" have passed away. Irrespective of the justification of the humor on both sides in the days of old, the past 10 years have brought about a solidarity in the social life of all groups in the United States. The country boy goes to town, mingles with the city boy, and the city boy goes to the country and mingles with the country boy. Education has become more standardized, and the economic facilities for the dissemination of both information and entertainment have been perfected and penetrate the entire Nation.

Fashion, living conditions, entertainment, and education have paralleled industrial and commercial activities in uniting the people.

Differences are so slight that they no longer afford humor even where attempts are made to keep alive the old prejudices. A radio address spans the country, a moving picture pauses in every town, and automobiles are everywhere. Books, magazines, newspapers have a wider circulation than ever before and are read more intelligently. Out of this process of social development provincialisms disappear, group isolation wanes, and a general leveling appears. This has happened gradually in the United States and has occasioned little comment because as a by-product of the numerous factors operating, the result has been taken for granted.

American chewing gum provided the prize money for the Coste-Bellonte flight. American chewing gum seems to be getting a foothold everywhere.

People who find it difficult to live within their income would find it even more difficult to live without their incomes.

NEW INCINERATOR BE PLACED IN USE BY CITY THURSDAY

Corsicana's modern odorless incinerator, recently completed at a cost of approximately $27,000, will be formally placed into service Thursday, Street and Sanitary Commissioner R. D. Fleming announced Tuesday morning.

Every citizen in Corsicana is cordially invited to visit the plant any time Thursday, to watch the recent sanitary improvement as it easily disposes of a problem that has been troubling the city commission for many months.

The plant is located on city property on the Chatfield road about a mile from the business district, and a few hundred yards northeast of the city barns. A gravel road has been built from the concrete highway to the new plant, supplying an all-weather road.

Representing the latest developments in the incinerator line, the Corsicana plant is of double-unit construction with two furnaces, which may be used separately or simultaneously, with a capacity of forty tons in ten hours, and capable of handling a fifteen per cent overload above this amount, 110 tons or refuse per day if crowded to its utmost capacity for a twenty-four hour period.

An eighty-foot stack supplies the draft for the huge furnace and enables all of the gases to be burned before reaching the open air, thus eliminating all disagreeable odors, and leaving little smoke.

The building housing the furnaces is built several feet above the level of the surrounding terrain, and is reached by a wide ramp, so that the city trucks may drive into the building and dump their loads directly into the furnaces, and at the same time leaving a level on which the ashes and other slight refuse from the furnaces might be drawn. The building is made of reinforced concrete, brick, and stucco, and presents a very pleasing appearance.

The plant was built by Caid C. Carson, formerly of Corsicana. Bonds for the municipal improvements were voted last November.

CONTRACT EXTENDED WITH ENGINEERS BY COURT ON MONDAY

The contract existing with McClendon and Purnell, county engineers, which expired Oct. 1, was extended until December 31, 1930 by the Navarro county commissioners court at its Monday afternoon session, and an order was passed for the payment of the freight as gravel purchased by Commissioner Jack Megarity arrives and payment for the gravel weekly.

The gravel is to be used on about one and one-half miles of road from Black Hills to the Corsicana-Hillsboro road, and also on about three-fourths mile of road in Thorpe Addition.

Commissioner Megarity said that the road would be graveled from the pavement on West Thirteenth avenue and South Twentieth street westward, and that the county and city were to work in conjunction.

The court ordered a seed conveyor on a gin at Powell to the seed-house on the railroad right-of-way spanning State Highway 31 to be erected at an estimated cost of $450.

Clay Nash, county judge, stated that the conditions of the road between Corsicana and Richland in the vicinity of the rock quarry were bad, and that it was likely that legal action in the matter will be taken. The commissioners instructed him to proceed in the matter.

CITIZENS ASKING GOVERNOR TO CALL RELIEF SESSION

LEGISLATURE WOULD BE ASKED ASSIST DROUGHT STRICKEN WEST AREA

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Without definitely refusing, Governor Dan Moody today reiterated his strong reluctance to call a special session of the legislature to appropriate drouth relief funds.

He outlined his reasons to a committee of West Texas bankers, representing some 15 counties, who had reached the conclusion that state aid was the only hope for destitute farmers in about 54 west Texas counties.

His objections were: Extreme doubt that a quorum could be obtained at the 41st legislature, which goes out of existence with the election of the new legislature in November; some doubt as to whether the legislature, if assembled, would pass such a measure; a special session which could only authorize the state to loan money, would considerably jeopardize the chance of getting a federal appropriation, which would not have to be repaid; an finally, the fact that the state, as usual at this time of the year, has insufficient money in the treasury to furnish drought relief funds.

The governor said he had talked to many members of the 41st legislature, and that the sentiment was overwhelmingly against another special session.

After nearly three hours of discussion, the committee decided to return to West Texas, and call another conference of business men and bankers, and see whether the governor's suggestion of utilizing the resources of federal land banks, through credit corporations, could be effected. They also planned to poll members of the legislature and to confer with Ross S. Sterling, democratic nominee for governor, regarding his attitude toward drouth relief.

If, at this subsequent meeting, it is again decided that state aid is the only possible aid, the governor will be again approached.

It was suggested by Moody that credit corporations be set up with county warrants, issued for that purpose, to comprise the capital necessary for these organizations; and that l s be made to farmers through these corporations, with a mortgage on next year's crop as security.

Many objections were voiced to the plan, but it was decided to discuss the proposition further.

Picturing conditions in the drought area, members of the committee predicted a possible widespread outbreak of lawlessness.

W. E. Lowe, De Leon banker, declared that he had lived in West Texas 53 years and that conditions were worse than they had been since the drought of 1886-87.

Selling Their All

"The farmers have been subsisting," he said, "on the returns from a meagre cotton crop. They've sold their chickens, and they're selling their fine Jersey cows. After their cows are gone, I don't know what they'll do to get bread. They will have to take the road. That any man should go hungry in Texas is a tragedy."

Guy Dabney, chairman of the committee, declared the farmers were going to leave the section.

"If we don't make a crop next year," he said, "we'll all have to leave."

T. E. Powell of Baird said there were 500 destitute farmers in his county, and said many of them had sold their mortgaged cattle to get food for their families.

"And I dont blame them," he added. "A man's first duty is to feed his children."

Similar expressions were made by other members of the committee.

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A delegation of about twenty-five West Texas bankers and business men, characterized as the advance guard of a possible army of 400 substantial citizens, called upon Governor Dan Moody today to ask a special session of the legislature to appropriate relief funds for drouth stricken West Texas counties.

Guy Dabney, president of the Eastland County Bankers association, said if this delegation failed to sway the Governor, he would muster citizens from fifty or sixty West Texas counties and bring a delegation of from 400 to 500.

Senator Clint Small of Wellington, although not a member of the committee, was here to accompany the committee in its call on the Governor. Dabney had a telegram from Senator Pink Parrish, Lubbock, declaring he was "100 per cent behind" the committee, and that the state was the only source of relief.

The committee asked the Governor for an immediate session. Dabney and his associates declared conditions had placed the farmers on the verge of disaster. He exhibited a form letter which he sent Saturday to banks in 54 counties, reading excerpts from it as follows:

"At the desk and in the lobby of every country bank in the area there stands today a long waiting and patient line of John Does (destitute farmers), hopeful yet discouraged, trying to determine how they can carry on.

"Shall the bankers of this unfortunate section, hoping to get relief from congress sit idly by until December? It is unthinkable that we delay until John Doe has joined the ever-increasing army of thieves and hijackers, that his family may be fed."

Rains over the week-end prevented many from attending the conference, Dabney said, since it was only planned definitely Saturday. Regardless of whether the committee receives encouragement from Mr. Moody, the plan was to return to West Texas and start an immediate survey of the needs.

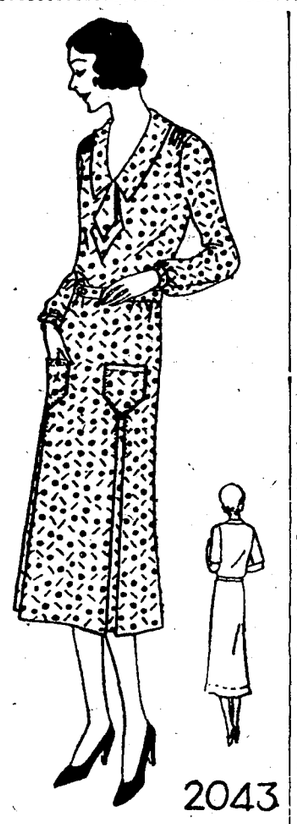

Dabney would not estimate the exact needs of each county, but said that in Eastland county, perhaps in better condition than other sections, between $50,000 and $60,000 would be needed to furnish adequate relief. Banks have loaned to the limit of this

CORSICANA LEADS TEXAS CITIES IN INCREASED SALES

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Retail department store sales in Texas increased seasonally from August to September by 37 per cent, compared to a three-year average of only 31 per cent for this period, according to the bureau of business research at the University of Texas. Total business for the first nine months of 1930 was 93 per cent of that during a corresponding period of 1929, compared to 91.3 per cent at the end of the first eight months of the year.

The most substantial increase in percentage as compared to the previous month's business was in Corsicana, where September sales were 81.2 per cent greater than August. San Antonio, with a September business of 42.6 per cent greater than August and 12.6 per cent greater than September, 1929, came nearest to the 1929 levels in total business for the entire year. Sales in Austin, also, were slightly greater than during September last year and total business in this city for the year lacks only 4.7 per cent equaling 1929 records. Austin tied with Dallas for second place in maintaining last year's volume.

Dallas business increased over August more than the seasonal average, but percentage of 1929 business to date was slightly smaller than on Sept. 1. This city has shown marked resistance to the general downward trend of sales and in spite of its failure to gain as rapidly as some others during September, only one city in the state was nearer to 1929 totals on Oct. 1.

Sales in Houston, after declining in August, contrary to the seasonal tendency to increase, took an upward spurt in September and exceeded the corresponding month of 1929 by 2.5 per cent.

LOCAL CAMP FIRE EXECUTIVE RESIGNS TO GO TO DALLAS

MRS. SUTTLE ROBERTS NAMED TEMPORARY EXECUTIVE TO SUCCEED MISS YOUNG

At a called meeting of the executive board of the local Camp Fire organization held in the Camp Fire headquarters in the educational building of the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, the resignation of Miss Tillie Frances Young as local Camp Fire executive was presented to the board and accepted, Mrs. Suttle Roberts was appointed Camp Fire executive until such time as the board can fill the office held by Miss Young.

On November 15, Miss Young will go to Dallas where she will be executive in charge of the Camp Fire work in that city. The opening was offered Miss Young last summer but she declined but upon additional pressure to come and take this position and with the approval of the local board she finally accepted. Miss Young will succeed a young lady who has held the position temporarily, and who will be Miss Young's assistant.

Miss Young has made an excellent record in this work, having been executive for two and one-half years, and the board adopted a resolution to this effect which will be incorporated in the form of a letter.

H. D. Fillers, chairman of the nominating committee in placing Mrs. Roberts' name before the board explained that Mrs. Roberts had had considerable training in this work, having gone to two national training camps and was chairman of the guardian association. He stated that at a considerable sacrifice, Mrs. Roberts agreed to take over this work temporarily. Mr. Fillers predicted a continuance of the excellent work being done for the girls in character building in Corsicana and vicinity.

The board also voted to give the president and executive the authority to take the needed steps to provide a house for the keeper to live in at Camp Wanica. A small fund was also voted to purchase some needed manuals for Camp Fire work.

A report by the finance committee showed that additional funds had been received for the budget.

INDICTS AMERICA FOR BRUTALITY TO ITS POOR PEOPLE

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Dr. E. Leslie Burgin, member of parliament, said today upon returning from the International Law association conference in New York that "there is no country in the world quite so hard on the unfortunate and poor as the so-called prosperous continent of America."

Dr. Burgin said he had traveled in thirty states while in the United States, adding, "throughout the whole of American three seems to be little reserve in the pockets of the people. Thrift, foresight and saving all seems to be little known and less practiced.

"There is no unemployment insurance, there is very little organized public assistance, and the poor law is administered with a rigor that savors of Prussianism.

"In America there seems to be a spirit of far greater callousness than exists in the old country. Apparently it is not uncommon for patients in hospitals and infirmaries to be told that the bed in which they are lying had been offered to some one who has bid a higher price."

Chatted with Coach John Pierce Wednesday after reading an article in Jinx Tucker's column where two rival scouts were discovered in the woods near where the Waco Tigers are practicing daily, jotting down the formations and plays of the boys of the Brazos, and casually inquired whether those might have been Corsicana scouts, as no town was mentioned in the outburst about the scouts being discovered.

"They weren't Corsicana's," the Tiger mentor snapped quickly, "when we scout a game, we go to the game, tell them we are there, and sit in the grandstand and do the right thing about it," he coninued. "Corsicana won't do any trick like that, anyhow," the mentor said with emphasis, and the writer agrees with what Johnny said about it, for we have always found Johnny shooting square on questions of that character, as well as others.

What is worrying the Tiger mentors right now is whether their charges will be in the right attitude for the game in Waxahachie Friday afternoon. Only light workouts have been given the Bengals this week, but the players are not pointing to Friday's game as the local coaches would have them do.

If the Tigers think they have a setup in the approaching game, they had better rake their minds and remember that lucky 9-6 score here last year, or they might recall the Baylor-S. M. U. game in Waco last Saturday, when the cocky Mustangs, conceded by all neutral critics and fans are being favorites to trim the Golden Bears, forged ahead, and then were fought to a standstill by an inspired band of Baylor demons, who slashed and fought their way to a 14-14 tie game that shocked the Mustangs and their supporters, and upset the great record expected to be made by the Methodists. Several of the regulars of S M. U. had been taken from the game, and had the contest lasted much longer, it was almost a certainty that the Waco institution would have won the game. The Mustangs were not in the right mental attitude for the Baylor game, and all the efforts of the Mustang mentors to the contrary were wasted, but this week, the Mustangs are snapping out of their workouts and will be vicious against Indiana.

The half game won and lost by the Mustangs last week-end due to the tie game may deprive the Dallas institution of a Southwestern conference title this year, all because the players thought they had a cinch, and the same condition may result if the Corsicana Tigers figure they have a setup with the Ellis county lads.

RED LIGHT MEANT FOR ALL VEHICLES DALLAS DECIDES

DALLAS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Dallas officially put her foot down on ambulances, volice automobiles and other emergency vehicles running against stop signal lights today.

Yesterday, a driver of a city ambulance wrizzed by a red stop signal and collided with two automobiles. Four versons were injured.

An official order was issued that hereafter emergency automobiles, whether they be ambulances, police patrols or whatnot, must respect the traffic signals.

Where the fire department is notified before a run is started the amber light goes on to clear the way, but if those making the calls are in too much of a hurry to request the clear signal they will be forced to wait like everybody else when the red light goes on.

Seating Capacity of Longhorn Stadium is To Be Made 48,220

AUSTIN, Oct. 23.—(Spl.)—Bleacher seats to accommodate approximately 6,000 people have been unloaded at Texas memorial stadium, and will be erected immediately in anticipation of the huge crowd expected for the Texas-A. and M. football game to be played at Austin Thanksgiving. These additional seats will move the seating capacity of Memorial stadium up to 48,220.

Part of the new seats, 3,080 of them, will be moved to Gregory gymnasium at the end of the football season to be used for basketball games. The total seating capacity of Gregory gymnasium will then be between 7500 and 8000.

The bleachers were obtained by the Longhorn officials at a cost of $10,800.

DRY REPUBLICANS AGAINST REPEAL OF 18TH AMENDMENT

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Republican dry chieftains are preparing to insist that their party's 1932 platform contain a plank declaring against repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

They are biding their time, quietly awaiting meanwhile the returns from the congressional elections two weeks hence, but already intimations are heard that unless this plank against repeal is incorporated in the republican platform a third party movement may be started.

The democrats, too, are having their worries over prohibition in contemplating the 1932 prospect with their leading presidential possibilities divided widely on the issue.

Southern Success Doubtful

However, in spite of the political aridity of the Southern states, republican prohibitionists are less hopeful now of repeating their 1928 successes in the South, even though the democrats should select a wet nominee. Also the republican candidates in New York and New Jersey this year are campaigning for repeal and there is every indication that the delegations of these states to the next convention will carry with them wet demands.

The democrats, although speculating on the 1932 effects of possible victories this year by such repeal candidates as Governor Roosevelt of New York, and Robert J. Bulkley, the party's senatorial nominee in Ohio, have powerful dry leaders. Among them are such presidential possibilities as Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Senator Glass of Virginia.

The report of the law enforcement commission on prohibition is expected at the capitol to precipitate campaigning on a national scale. That report will not be drafted until after the election. There is no definite indication of the lineup of the commission on the subject although Washington is filled with rumors.

Some republican drys are wondering whether the commission's report may affect the stand of President Hoover, who in the 1928 campaign declared against repeal of the prohibition amendment.

Meanwhile, Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, already has called for a prohibition battle in 1932 and has asserted the republicans will champion the dry cause.

The prohibitionists are mobilizing and the republicans are mentionin such party stalwarts as Vice-president Curtis and Senator Fess of Ohio, now national chairman, as well as Senator Borah of Idaho, for leadership.

Matrimony Affected Outcome of Wisconsin Game Last Saturday

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 23.—(AP)—It was more than a case of just playing for dear old Wisconsin when Charles (Buckets) Goldenberg, Badger quarterback, carried the oval for the University of Wisconsin to the detriment of the University of Pennsylvania at Madison last Saturday.

According to intimates of Goldenberg, he plans to marry Miss Marian Werba of Minwaukee. Miss Werba is a football fan. So, it appears, is her father.

"You beat Pennsylvania," the father was reported by friends to have told Buckets, "or you'll be no son-in-law of mine."

Score: Wisconsin 27, Pennsylvania 0.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN SPINNING INDUSTRY DURING SEPTEMBER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—The cotton spinning industry was reported today by the census bureau to have operated during September at 76.4 per cent capacity, on a single shift basis as compared with 65.2 per cent during August this year and 104.0 per cent during September last year.

Spinning spindles in place Sept. 30 numbered 33,959,172, of which 26,087,004 were active at some time during the month and the average number operated was 25,941,497, compared with 33,998,998, 25,273,978 and 22,163,887 in August this year and 34,843,998, 30,037,922 and 36,225,311 in September last year.

JOEL HUNT ADDED TO TEXAS AGGIE COACHING STAFF

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 22.—(Spl.)—Addition of Joel Hunt, former Texas Aggie grid star, to the A. & M. College of Texas football coaching staff for the remainder of the current gridiron season, was announced today by Dean Charles E. Friley, chariman of the A. & M. athletic council, following recommendation to that effect by Coach Madison Bell.

Hunt, triple-threat performer who starred particularly as a ball toter, ended his football career at A. & M. as captain and quarterback of the 1927 championship team. He was all-Southwest Conferenceback in 1925, 1926 and 1927. Following the close of the college baseball season in 1928, Hunt, also a diamond star, signed with the St. Louis Cardinals. He was sent to the Houston Buffaloes, later to another club of the Cardinals and returned for the 1929 season to the Buffaloes. He played with the Buffaloes during the past season.

"Joel will work as assistant coach in the backfield, largely to demonstrate the art of ball toting, broken field running, stiff-arming and other requisites of a good backfield man," Coach Bell said.

JUDGE'S REMOVAL AND BANK FAILURE EXCITES CONROE

NUMEROUS CHARGES ARE BROUGHT AGAINST MONTGOMERY COUNTY JURIST

CONROE, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Transfer of road district bonds worth 95 cents on the dollar for water district bonds worth but 80 cents on the dollar, for the school fund of Montgomery county, was alleged in one of the ten specific charges made against A. W. Morris, deposed county judge of this county, by a group of three taxpayers in the petition which brought about Morris' removal from office Sunday.

The petition, signed by A. M. Madeley, B. B. Nutter and J. M. Cooksey, together with W. B. Browder, district attorney of the ninth judicial district, and S. A. Crawford, attorney for the first mentioned trio, was filed Saturday with the district clerk, and acted upon Sunday by District Judge S. A. McCall. Judge McCall appointed B. T. Smith of this city acting county judge.

Besides the bond transfer allegation, the three taxpayers charged that Judge Morris had hired a private attorney to prosecute a delinquent tax suit against Madeley, one of the petitioners; that he awarded publication of the county delinquent tax list to one newspaper without competitive bid; that he had his salary for November paid to him in advance; that he has permitted extravagant and wasteful use of the county's money in the conduct of the county's affairs; that he, with the county commissioners, increased the price paid the county clerk per 100 words transcribed from 10 cents to 15 cents; that he charged the county with expenses of trips made by himself to Dallas and Austin; that he employed at $65 a month a helper in his office; that he has bought stationary supplies for in excess of the county's needs; that he has instituted the publication of delinquent tax records running back many years, which the petitioners alleged was unnecessary and wasteful.

CONROE, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Failure of a bank and temporary removal of a county judge combined to create a situation here today replete with possibilities of developments.

While a state ranger and a state bank examiner transferred all cash and securities of the failed Farmers' and Merchants' State Bank to Houston, other state examiners and a federal auditor checked the institutions accounts. The money was removed as a precautionary step.

County Judge A. W. Morris, removed temporarily by District Judge S. A. McCall, pending investigation of charges of misconduct in office filed by citizens, meanwhile, issued a statement that the charges were an outgrowth of a heated political campaign last June. He conferred with attorneys and indicated he would be a candidate for county judge on an independent ticket next November.

Hearing on the charges has been set for Oct. 27.

stepped out and beckoned three officers into his room. After a few minutes they emerged, half carrying Mrs. O'Loughlin, who was moaning and near collapse. Captain Clark summoned a cab to take him home and it was not until he was ready to leave headquarters that he broke the news of her admission.

"She cracked," he said.

"Her first statement of admission was: "I'll take the blame; I'm the one that has to suffer."

Man Is Also Held.

DENVER, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Frank O'Loughlin, brother of Detective Leo O'Loughlin, whose ten year old daughter Leona was murdered here last week, was taken into custody for questioning in connection with the slaying today. Ray Humphries, investigator for the district attorney, said O'Loughlin had been shadowed by officers for four days.

While police were questioning Frank O'Loughlin, another legal move was being made by attorneys for Mrs. O'Laughlin in district court.

F. J. Schneider and John M. Keating, her attorneys, asked Judge James C. Starkweather for permission to see their client in jail. They also asked permission to have her own physician visit her.

constipation

"I HAD a stubborn case of constipation after a very severe spell of grip," says Mr. John B. Hutchison, of Neosho, Mo. "When I would get constipated, I'd feel so sleepy, tired and worn-out.

"When one feels this way, work is much harder to do, especially farm work. I would have dizzy headaches when I could hardly see to work, but after I read of Black-Draught, I began taking it. I did not have the headache any more.

"When I have the sluggish, tired feeling, I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and it seems to carry off the poison and I feel just fine. I use Black-Draught at regular intervals. It is easy to take and I know it helps me."

TEXAS METHODISTS IN CONFERENCE AT FAR DISTANCT POINTS

GREENVILLE AND HARLINGEN ENTERTAINING NORTH AND WEST TEXANS

GREENVILLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The North Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, today adopted the report of the board of temperance and social service criticizing newspapers of the nation for alleged dissemination of "wet propaganda."

Dr. W. D. Bradfield, urging its adoption, told the conference that "prohibition is dear to the people of America, but the tide of politics is running against the cause at the moment."

Among those supporting the report was Charles H. Morris at Winnsboro, one-time candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nominaion.

The Rev. T. H. Morris of Byers, oldest effective preacher on rolls of the conference, was severe in his criticism of the press, saying "the voice of the people was largely muzzled, while wet propagandists are putting over their program."

"The daily press is syndicated and standardized to discredit prohibition, the weekly press is browbeaten and the religious press has no strength," the report said.

In its political references, the board's report admitted the possibility that in 1932 delegates from wet states, or states in which wet forces have chosen the delegates, will control the national conventions of both parties.

"As a remedy for this condition, the fight must be carried to the people with renewed vigor," the report said. "Our appeal must be to the people to create and maintain public opinion that will make it safe for politicians to stand by our cause. The forces working to discredit President Hoover and prohibition should awaken every lover of temperance."

GREENVILLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The 64th annual session of the North Texas conference, Methodist Episcopal church, South, had the prospect today of hearing committee reports.

Rev. R. G. Mood of McKinney was elected secretary of the conference for the 27th consecutive time, at the opening session yesterday. Bishop Hiram A. Boaz presided.

Rev. Fred Barnett of the hospital board at Dallas made a report and W. F. Barnett told of the needs of the orphanage at Waco.

Reports on Program

HARLINGEN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Committee conferences and reports were on the program today of the annual West Texas conference here of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. Reports yesterday of presiding elders revealed "pitiable financial distress" in the San Angelo, San Antonio and Llano districts. Bishop Sam R. Hay, who presided, said few ministers would be given new assignments "because the impression has got out we are having hard times and it takes a great deal of money to move ministers."

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 23.—(AP)—A hearing on a motion for a new trial for George Fobison, under life sentence for the murder of Elmer Carter, Jackson county deputy sherriff, will be held Saturday before District Judge Frank Mattews.

BANKS IN DROUGHT AREA BE FAVORED AS STATE DEPOSITORIES

AUSTIN, Oct. 22.—(AP)—State Treasurer Gregory Hatcher announced today that all banks in the drought stricken area, making application and showing proper liquid security, would be given a preference as depositors for state funds for the fiscal year beginning December 1.

Hatcher's announcement follows:

"If the banks of West Texas or any drought-stricken section of the state will make application for state funds, and indicate their ability and willingness to furnish liquid security for the same a preference will be given these banks in the designation of state depositories and allotment of funds for the ensuing fiscal year, beginning December 1.

"By liquid securities I mean such as can be immediately converted into cash in case of a bank failure, so that the state will not be embarrassed by delay in collecting the amount of the deposit.

"It will be recalled that after I had visited a number of drought stricken sections in 1925, that I obtained the cooperation of the state depository board and deposited nearly $2,000,000 in the forty-four counties most seriously affected by the drought of that year and that not one dollar, interest or principal, was lost by so doing.

"However, the condition of the money market in recent years, and particularly the condition existing at this time, makes it necessary for the legislature to reduce the interest rate from four to three per cent per annum for funds deposited in state depositories, in order for the banks to use the funds without loss, the greater portion of the year, because of their giving security, which must and should be required, but which entails an extra cost to be added to the interest rate.

"I have twice before recommended to the legislature this reduction in the interest rate and I hope that the 42nd legislature will see fit to follow my recommendation in this respect, so that it will not continue to be necessary for the state treasurer to deposit a vast majority of state funds in the big city banks."

GREEK PREMIER TO VISIT TURKEY; PROBLEM DELICATE

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Plans of the Turkish government fo rthe visit of the Greek Premier Eleutherios Venizelos today stood completed. Venizelos will arrive on Saturday.

The Turkish government has solved the delicate problem of where its one time greatest enemy should land. Smyrna was rejected because of its dark memories. Ismidt was eliminated because of its naval zone where a Greek destroyed would not be welcome. Istanbul was considered an unwise choice because of the possibility that its thousands of Greek ersidents might be too boisterous in their welcome, and the necessity devolving upon the visitor to make an official call on the patriarch.

It was finally decided that the Greek guest would slip into Haidar Pasha, an Asiatic suburb of Istanbul, where a special train will take him to Angora across territory where his armies fought vainly for their dream of a greater Hellas eight years ago.

The visit of Premier Venizelos will extend to the seventh birthday of the Turkish republic on October 29. In the celebration of that event he will stand beside President Mustapha Kemal and review a parade of soldiers, many of whom helped to drive into the sea the Greek forces at Smyrna in 1922. The presence of Venizelos at the Turkish independence jubilee echoes the participation of the Turkish ambassador at Athens in Greece's celebration of her centenary of freedom from Turkish rule.

Turco Greek negotiations at Angora are being speeded up so that treaties of commerce and friendship will be ready for Venezilos' signature during his visit.

Moody and Carpenter As They Appeared At East Texas Banquet

Gov. Dan Moody, guest of honor, and John W. Carpenter, toastmaster, are shown arriving at the East Texas Dinner in their all-Texas-made clothes. Though the suits were of white cotton, Gov. Moody declared that "Texas-made clothes are never out of season." Both Mr. Carpenter and Governor Moody wore suits, shirts, sox, neckties, underwear, and handkerchiefs made by the Pool Manufacturing Co. of Sherman, Texas. Hats were furnished by Willard & Davis Hat Co. of Dallas, and shoes by H. J. Justin & Sons of Fort Worth. The more than one thousand people gathered at the tables, set under a huge circus tent on the State Fair grounds, were unstinting in their praise of the dinner and were equally enthusiastic in the applause with which they greeted Gov. Moody, Senator Connally and other speakers.

Governor Moody declared that East Texas in its natural beauty shows the hand of the Divine, and that while its present is romantic and developing, its future cannot be foretold by anything short of divine foresight. "All Texas is great," stated the governor. "We are proud of every section of it. When we go out of the state and people ask us where we are from, our chins tilt upward, and we say with pride that we are from Texas."

United States Senator Tom Connally was equally lavish in his praise, pointing out that the early pioneers had stopped in East Texas and quickly realized its boundless resources. Guy A. Blount, president of the East Texas chamber of commerce, gained the good humored applause of the audience when he pictured East Texas ten years hence as a land free from ad valorem taxation, and a land replete with "hills, rills, thrills and stills."

That the dinner was an outstanding success was amply shown by the unanimous vote of approval given to a motion by Judge Hayne Nelms of Groveton, to make the dinner an annual affair. Others introduced at the dinner were Lieut. Gov. Witt of Waco, Frank P. Holland of Dallas, Representatives Sumners, Morgan Sanders and Sam Rayburn; Daniel Upthegrove, president of the Cotton Belt railroad; Mrs. R. F. Lindsley, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and Pat Neff, chairman of the railroad commission. The invocation was offered by Dr. F. S. Groner, president of the College of Marshall.

CO-OP MARKETING MOVEMENT TAKING HOLD IN EARNEST

That the cotton cooperative marketing movement is sweeping the state of Texas is indicated in deliveries already this year of more than 400,000 bales of cotton, according to W. C. Gillian, local representative of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association.

Mr. Gillian stated that he had just received word from the state offices of Dallas that the 400,000 bale mark was passed with Monday's receipts, and at the rate deliveries continue to be made from all sections of the state, the half-million bale mark will be reached by November 1st. Mr. Gillian also stated that similar reports of substantial progress were being received from other cotton cooperative marketing associations throughout the cotton belt.

"The bulk of deliveries are now being made to the seasonal pool," Mr. Gillian said, "through which pooling plan the member receives a final return on the actual grade and staple of cotton delivered by him based on the season's average sale prices for each particular quality. In this manner, he does not receive either the season's high price or the season's low price, but rather the average price throughout the year."

The association's 90 per cent initial advance on the market value of classed cotton continues, it was said. Deliveries to the channels of cooperative marketing this season are already 150,000 bales greater than at any time during the past ten years.

Two Hundred Hungry Clevelanders Are Fed By Amish Religionists

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Two hundred hungry Clevelanders were thankful today for the teaching of the Amish religion that it is wrong to let a fellowman starve. Fifteen Amish families of Millersburg, Ohio, sent chickens and other farm produce here last night to feed the 200 hungry ones.

The Amish were too busy with some religious observance to bring the food themselves so they sent it here by a relative who is a Mennonite. They promised to visit Cleveland personally with another load of food however, around Christmas.

INSTRUCTION FOR PREPARATION BAGS FOR DISTANT POSTS

CHRISTMAS BAGS ONE FEATURE RED CROSS WORK; GO TO SERVICE MEN

One of the divisions of the Red Cross work among local chapters all over the nation is that of supplying Christmas Bags for men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps who are stationed at the various posts maintained far from home. At a recent meeting of the executive board of the Navarro County Chapter, American Red Cross, it was voted to extend the activities of the local chapter and add this project ti the work already being done here.

This is called the Volunteer Service departments and Miss Dorothy Drane was named as chairman of this division and she has already lined up her helpers in this new department and it is already an assured success with Miss Drane in charge and being assisted, as she is, by the whole-hearted co-operation of a large number of faithful women in Corsicana. The following will aid those who are to make these Christmas bags:

The instructions for Christmas bags for the men of the army, navy and marine corps stationed in distant posts are as follows:

Bags should be made of bright colored chintz or cretonne. When finished should measure 10x10 and should pull together at the top with two draw strings.

Contents. -- is essential that these bags should have a certain uniformity so that one man does not receive a great deal more than another. Each bag should have at least nine or ten articles selected from the following list, care being taken to have half of contents of the larger articles. Inspection of all bags is to be commended. ANTIQUE "RACKET" LEADERS SOUGHT BY BOSTON POLICE: ONE MEMBER IS ARRESTED

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The alleged geniuses of an antique "racket," Wilbur J. Cooke and Mrs. E. E. Caroline Saunders of New York, were objects of a nationwide police search today. Thirteen secret indictments were returned yesterday against members of the "racket."

Cooke and Mrs. Saunders are said to have escaped Monday from the home in Holyoke of Mrs. Clementine Briggs Doran at the time Mrs. Doran was arrested and charged with having sold China, which she represented to be of antique origin, to a Boston art connoisseur for $51,000. Police charged that the ware was of modern manufacture and had been artificially aged.

With the arrest of Mrs. Doran police disclosed the existence of the ring, through which, they believe, victims have been mulcted out of millions of dollars. Operations have been so clever and on such a large scale that even noted collectors were victimized.

Heads of museums here are now checking their collections to determine if any spurious works are among them, and purchases at recent antique sales are being examined by police, who have enlisted the aid of Edwin E. Crowinshield, an authority on Chinaware. A number of local antique dealers are under surveillance.

Mrs. Doran, who was held in jail because she was unable to post $20,000 bond, yesterday told police she had merely acted as Cooke's secretary and had been unaware of any fraud in the gathering and sale of paintings, china and other articles.

Mexican Communist Held and Numerous Letters Are Seized

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Manuel Villegas Ocana, allegedly a communist who has been in communication with communists in the United States, has been arrested by orders of the chief of police and is being held incomunicado.

Correspondence seized in Villegas' quarters was said to include letters exchanged with communists in Detroit and other parts of the United States and with persons in Russia. The letters were said to reveal that Villegas has received money from the "Pan-Pacific Trade Union" in the United States, address not given, and from a person in Detroit.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The police conducted a series of raids today on alleged communist groups in which twenty-three persons were arrested, including the secretary of the organization.

Searchers said they found under a flor in the communist headquarters ammunition and soviet propaganda, including some leaflets entitled "Australia's part in the world revolution."

NEW GASOLINE BY MAGNOLIA GIVING SPLENDID RESULTS

"New Improved 'Maximum-Mileage' is much more than just a trade name or the new gasoline now made available at all Magnolia stations and Magnolia dealers throughout the Southwest," was the comment made by E. P. Angus, vice president, in announcing this new Magnolia product. "This new gasoline," he continued, "is the result of months spent in experimenting and of a multitude of tests made by Magnolia engineers to produce a gasoline that will better meet the most exacting requirements of the motorist. 'Maximum-Mileage' does this."

To explain the characterists of this new product in a way to be easily understood, Mr. Angus said: "Gasoline, in flowing from the automobile tank through the feed pipe, passes through the vacuum tank and on into the carburetor, where a proper mixture of air causes the gasoline to form into a vapor and then the vapor and the air in combination pass into the cylinders of the car, where the spark from the spark plug ignites it, producing an explosion that forms the power that propels the automobile. The gasoline feed pipes and the carburetor are necessarily near the motor. When the motor is operating at high temperatures the gasoline is sometimes affected by this heat, producing what is called 'vapor-lock,' known to many motorists, especially to the operators of large cars."

FRENCHMEN WARNED AGAINST EXPECTING DEBT MORATORIUM

PARIS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Henri Berenger, negotiator for the Franco-American debt settlement, today warned Frenchmen that they should give no credence to reports that the United States would grant a moratorium on the war debts.

In an article written especially for the provincial press, Senator Berenger says that such reports betray ignorance of conditions in America and of the American attitude. France, he emphasizes, was in no need for revision of the debts.

"France expects that all countries shall honor their signatures," he said, "just as France has honored hers. She will permit no interference in international contracts which menace the stability of peace."

OUTWITTING YOUR NERVES

by Josephine A. Jackson, M.D.

The Famous Writer and Authority on Nerves

The New Psychology In Action

FEELINGS AND FANCIES

Miss X. writes: I am possessed of fear. It is in the pit of my stomach. It is caused by bashfulness. I attended some meetings of what they call occult science. They claim there are forces about us to touch the physical or mental. I do not believe in it myself, but I've got under the power of this occultism, and I suffer from these "spirit forces" that seem to come in whether I want them to or not, especially at night. They seem to want to show how it would be to be married. I have not experienced the "kindly truth forces" yet, though they have told me about them at these meetings. Please help me by giving your honest advice, be it encouraging or otherwise.

Answer: It may comfort Miss X. to know that we all have experienced that feeling of fear at the "pit of the stomach."

I've had it,
You've had it,
He's had it.

I've had it while motoring, when I took some risky venture in passing another car. You've had it after speeding, when a guilty conscience added to the shrillness of the accusing siren. He's had it when the occasion, but not the courage, was at hand to "pop the question." The actor has it in the brief but awful pause between his performance and the applause of which he is not assured. Miss X. has it when she fears she has not put her personality across.

But let me tell you that this particular twist at the pit of the stomach serves no better purpose today than a fifth wheel to a buggy. It is a hang over from the time when all the resources of the organism had to be mobilized for running or fighting, to escape danger. In times of peace or safety the main activity of the animal body goes on below the belt, in the digestive tract—yhich is our real industrial center. Most of the man power or vital energy, is concentrated there. When danger threatens, a change occurs with lightning speed; only, unfortunately, it is out of date and does not fit the occasion. Digestion stops, and the vast network of blood vessels in that region tightens up to direct the blood to leg-and-arm muscles, just as if you were going to run or fight. But legs can't carry you, nor me, nor the actor, nor the lover, away from the predicament we are in. And as to fighting the motor cop when his siren stops you, you'll simply double your fine if you double your fist!

I have learned not to let that swift change in my solar plexus—from peace-time activity to war—occur readily nor last long. Most important of all, I've learned to recognize that the bulk of my fear comes from that bad feeling in the pit of my stomach and not from the momentary danger.

You have established the habit of unnecessary solar plexus responses, and of letting yourself be scared by the feeling that follows. Bashfulness in itself is a mistake, for it means being self-centered. Try taking yourself for granted, and thinking about something else instead.

Now just a word about that other notion of yours. There is nothing occult in the situation. What you think are spirit forces coming in against your will, are nothing but desires springing up in your subconscious mind and taking shape in fancy. So you see the fancies are all of your own making and within your own control. It is a pretty safe rule to hold oneself down from flights of fancy, for fancy does not help us fit into reality. Imaging something that isn't true and getting a half way pleasure from it cheats you and makes you the slave of a bad habit.

Turn less of your energy into self seeking and self concern, and more of it into doing well the every day job that comes to your hand. Bashfulness and "spirit forces" will soon come to mean nothing more to you than a bad dream.

the president's cabinet unemployment committee of seven planned to lend every effort to get the organization functioning within the shortest time possible.

After the White House conference, Col. Woods returned to the commerce department, conferred with Secretary Lamont, and began to organize his headquarters' personnel.

Edward E. Hunt, who was secretary to the unemployment commission of 1921, was designated as temporary secretary for the new campaign. He has been secretary to the president's commission on economic changes and formerly was secretary of the United States coal commission.

John M. Gries, public construction expert of the commerce department, also will assist Woods in his work.

As soon as possible Colonel Woods plans to designate state committees on unemployment and committes to deal with the subject in the various industries.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A bronzed, gray haired man with a flashing smile and a keen sense of humor today took over the task of keeping the wolf from the door of some 3,500,000 jobless persons in the United States during the winter.

Expressing determination after calling upon President Hoover that the government "must and will win" what he described as a "race against human misery," Colonel Arthur Woods of New York, launched upon his work in a series of conferences with Secretary Lamont, chairman of the president's cabinet committee of seven, and others who will counsel with him in the relief program which he is to direct.

Twice before the world war flier and holder of the nation's distinguished service medal had been called into service to relieve unemployment.

After the armistice in 1918 he became an assistant to the secretary of war and was charged with finding jobs for the demobilized men. He labored at that for nearly a year.

Again in 1921, when unemployment throughout the country reached the emergency stage, President Harding and Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce and chairman of the president's relief committee, put Colonel Woods to work finding jobs for the millions who were idle.

Third Similar Task

Today a similar task confronted the one-time police commissioner of New York City, and he accepted it smilingly. Hurrying to the white house just 24 hours after he had accepted the post as a dollar a year man, he was met by a battery of newspaper men.

"This looks natural," he said.

At times mixing banter with discussion of the serious work ahead of him, Colonel Woods submitted himself willingly to questions and then left in a bustling manner, which he expects to be characteristic during the next few weeks, to see Secretary Lamont.

Alleviating the suffering from unemployment is principally a local proposition, as he sees it, with the major activity of the government lying in the coordination of these sectional efforts. An organization similar to that built in 1921 with adaptions to changing conditions is planned by him. And through this program he is confident jobs will be found or relief extended to prevent actual suffering.

Colonel Woods has come to the capital on leave of absence from his work with the Rockefeller foundation, prepared to stay as long as he is needed.

Unemployment Census Is Now Being Taken

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Policemen began counting those out of work and in need today as part of the campaign under way to relieve suffering in the city this winter because of the unemployment.

The emergency employment committee, composed of 100 industrialists, financiers and civic representatives, was organized yesterday to raise $150,000 a week for a payroll fund to be administered through the charity organization Society and the association for improving condition of the poor. It is planned to provide work in parks and on other city property.

Mayor James J. Walker, in announcing that members of the police department would be detailed to make the unemployment census, said he planned to throw open the recreation piers, Bronx terminal market and other municipal buildings to house homeless. He said subordinate employes on the city payrolls would be asked to contribute $1 a month toward a relief fund. He estimated that this fund, with contributions from officials, would amoun to $150.000 a month.

The executive committee decided to adopt a plan similar to the liberty loan drives to canvass all trade groups in the city for contributions to the payroll fund.

Legge Offers Wheat As Unemployed Food

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Chairman Legge said today the federal farm board would be glad to make its holdings of wheat available as food for the unemployed if congress would replace the money used by the Grain Stabilization Corporation for its purchase.

Such a step, he said, would help in reducing the wheat surplus in this country.

Legge explained, however, that the farm board had no authority under the agricultural marketing act to give away wheat purchased in stabilization operations.

The only way the wheat could be turned over to the unemployed, therefore, was through additional authority from congress which meets in December.

Conferences Held.

Legge's statement came in the midst of a series of conferences on the unemployment situation between President Hoover, Col. Arthur Woods, government relief director, and other members of the Hoover cabinet committee.

Col. Woods set aside the day to organize his personal staff, going from one department to another to seek qualified men.

Wood's first act after a White House conference was to sound a call to industry to find as many jobs as possible this winter for the 3,500,000 persons shown by government figures to be out of unemployment.

President Hoover discussed the situation with a series of callers. Charles F. Abbott, executive director of the American Institute of Steel Construction, brought to the president the information that he had learned in his travels throughout the country that industry was awakening to its responsibilities in the present unemployment situation.

Situation Discussed.

Abbott said that 17 leaders of finance and industry last week met in New York City to discuss the economic problems of the country and decided that the most outstanding of them was unemployment. As soon as possible, he continued, a meeting would be organized in New York of leaders in industry and finance to further study the problem.

The structural steel industry, Abbott said, had not had many unemployment problems this year. While the present outlook of structural steel this year would fall 150,000 tons below that of last year, he said industry was hopeful of an increased demand for its products next year.

The industry, he said, was looking forward to a most active year as a result of applied research which had found numerous new uses for structural steel. He said steel plate flooring had been developed to such a point that the industry looked to a potential market of 3.000,000 tons annually. Structural steel, he added, was finding additional uses in the building of apartments, office structures, residences and in dams. In addition, he said, the industry expected to have a large portion of its products used in the double decking of streets in many of the large cities.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CLOSES TESTIMONY IN I. C. C. HEARING

feet immediately protesting that he did not know about any gateways having been closed and then Sullivan ended the argument by holding it was irrelevant.

J. C. Murray, traffic manager of the Little Rock chamber of commerce, added his endorsement of the proposal to those which had been given by other chamber of commerce representatives.

Short Line Statement

The Groveton, Lufkin and Northern, between Groveton and Lufkin, Texas, offered testimony to show why it should be included in the proposed new system. J. W. Mitchell of Groveton, superintendent and auditor of the Little road, said approximately 75 per cent of the freight income was from lumber shipments of the Trinity County Lumber company and that the company would finish cutting its timber within a few months. After the lumber shipments have ended, the road won't make its operating expenses, Mithcell said. The railroad, through its trackage agreements connects with both the Southern Pacific and the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) at Lufkin, Mitchell added.

J. T. Tallichet of Houston, attorney for the Southern Pacific, osught to bring out the road was built by the lumber company to haul its timber and that it had expected the road to die as soon as the forests were cut.

Through questioning of Mitchell, Hayne Nelms of the Groveton chamber of commerce, made the point that only one corner of Trinity county would have rail service if the Groveton, Lufkin and Northern and the Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine should be abandoned. Nelms referred to a truck raising movement, particularly tomatoes, started in Trinity county, which eventually should increase the revenue of the little road.

the state been so stirred by a general election campaign for state offices. Sepakers for both tickets have carried the issues into every dale and hamlet and have turned to the radio to reach other voters.

In other states farm relief, prohibition and the tariff have played the major part in the campaign but in Alabama they have been secondary, as the real issue is the right of the Democratic party to discipline its members.

The Jeffersonian ticket was the outgrowth of a resolution adopted by the state Democratic executive committee on Dec. 16, 1929, barring as candidates for state office all persons who "voted for or openly advocated" election of the Republican presidential ticket in 1928.

Barred from seeking renomination on the Democratic ticket, Senator Heflin for 34 years holder of an elective office as a Democrat, rallied his supporters and organized the Jeffersonians, who in addition put forward candidates for governor and lieutenant governor and in some counties complete tickets.

Senator Heflin opposes John H. Bankhead, son of the late United States Senator John N. Bankhead, whom Senator Heflin succeeded.

Hoover Democrats Candidates.

B. M. Miller, former associate justice of the state supreme court and Democratic nominee for governor is opposed by Hugh A. Locke of Birmingham, former member of the Democratic executive committee, who like Senator Heflin, took the stump against former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928.

The third of the Democratic nominees who has opposition is Hugh D. Merrill of Anniston, who is opposed by Dempsey M. Powell of Greenville, another bitter opponent of former Governor Smith.

In organizing the Jeffersonians declared they were seeking to "re-organize" the Democratic party in Alabama which they charged was under the domination of "Tammany, John J. Raskob and the wet advocates, and therefore declared themselves "the dry wing of the Democratic party."

Bankhead, Miller and Merrill and speakers in their behalf have declared throughout the state that prohibition is not an issue, since each of the candidates is personally dry and the Democratic party in Alabama "has always been dry."

try has solved the technical problems of production, and that American standards and wages have come to stay, were expressed by other speakers.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the chamber of commerce of the United States said that adoption by Europe of American standards of living would absorb surplus stocks that are depressing trade markets. He blamed tariff wars for economic distress.

He spoke at the conference's annual banquet last night at which Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin also outlined his views, which included a program of high wages, shorter hours and more leisure to make consumption catch up with production.

A note of optimism was also given by President Hoover who sent a message in which he said: "The growing relationship between education and business is a happy augury for both and will lead to enlarged usefulness in both spheres of activity."

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at a decline og 2 points to an advance of 7 points. There was some Southern selling at the start and further liquidation of October resulting, presumably, from the issuance of notices estimated at about 1,100 bales.

The initial offerings were quite readily absorbed, however, on buying promoted by the steadiness of Liverpool, reports of a steadier tone in the stock market and the talk of continued rade muying. New December contracts sold up to 10.64 and March to 10.98, making net advances of about 5 to 10 points on the more active positions at the end of the first half hour.

New Orleans Cotton Firm.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23.—@—Cotton had a fairly active and firm opening. Liverpol was somewhat better than due and first trades here showed gains of four to six points. After a slight reaction of one to two points on realizing the market again improved on good trade and speculative buying and buying by ring traders on private estimates of ginning to October 18 which indicates a smaller total for the last period than last year for the corresponding period.

December advanced to 10.65, January to 10.77 and March to 11.01, a gain of 7 to 9 points from yesterday's close.

At the end of the first hour the market continued active and very steady at the highs of he morning.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Influenced by announcement of persistent large exports of Russian wheat and by relative weakness of the Liverpool quotations, grain values here underwent an early setback today. Wheat shipments for the week from Russia amounted to 5,808,000 bushels and figures on the world's available supply also made a bearish oxhibit.

Opening unchanged to 1-2c off, Chicago wheat futures deliveries subsequently showed an all around sag. Corn and oats followed wheat, with corn starting unchanged to 1-2c lower, and afterward suffering a general drop.

Wheat closed irregular, 1-4 off to 1-2 up compared with yesterday's finish. Corn closed 3-8 to 1 1-4 net lower, oats 3-8 to 3-4c off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15c.

THREE TRAINMEN TRAPPED IN CAVEIN TUNNEL THURSDAY

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Rescue crews working at a tunnel at Adena, which collapsed burying the caboose of a Wheeling & Lake Erie freight train, today removed Al Romando, 35, from the wreckage. Romando was conscious, but his right arm and leg were broken, his hip crushed, and he had a number of body bruises.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 23.—(AP)—One of three trainmen trapin a cave-in in one of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad tunnels at Adena, 25 miles southwest of here today, was dead when removed from the shattered caboose at noon today. He was identified as Jerry L. Sells, 40, a conductor of Dillonvale.

Communication with Al Romando, 35, Dillonvale, another trainman, was established a short time before rescue crews reached Sells' body, which had been crushed under stone and dirt. Romando said he was trapped between boulders and could not move.

The rescue crew said E. E. Duga, 35, Dillonvale, a brakeman, probably was dead as the caboose had broken into hundreds of small pieces by the weight of the tunnel roof. They said Romando would be reached after the removal of abotu 10 feet of dirt.

Romando told the crews he was trapped but did not believe he was injured seriously.

The caboose was caught with six cars of a local freight train about 300 feet from the east end of the tunnel which is about 800 feet in length. The six cars were pulled from the tunnel by a locomotive, but the rescue crews were unable to reach the caboose from that end and attacked the west end where only a small amount of debris had fallen.

After four hours of digging they reached the demolished caboose and removed the body of Sells.

The train of 25 cars had been backed about 300 feet into the tunnel when the cave-in occurred. The tunnel was located on a branch line of the railroad about a mile and a half from Adena. The branch leads to the Clarkson coal mine near Harrisville and was used daily by the local freight in connection with the mine.

CLAIMED LATEST DEFECTION OPENS WAY INTO BAHIA

FIRST CASUALTIES FROM SOUTHERN FRONT REPORTED IN CAPITAL

CURITYBA, Parana, Brazil, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Brazilian revolutionary command was informed today that the nineteenth battalion of Chasseurs, stationed at Timbo, state of Bahia, had revolted and joined the insurgent movement.

Timbo is a railroad center about 100 miles from Bahia, third largest city of Brazil, and the insurgent advices claimed that the federal defection opened the way for their advance directly into Bahia on the railroad line.

It was presumed here that the army of Captain Juarez Tavora, which within the past few days has invaded and over-run the states of Pernambuco, Alagoas and sergipe, cannot be far from Timbo if it has not already reached this point in its advance down the coast toward Bahia or Sao Salvador.

Rebel troops claimed yesterday to have repelled a strong federal attempt to destroy Senges bridge across the Rio Taguary, just south of Itarare. The effect would have been to cut the line of communication of the insurgent vanguard which has advanced beyond Itarare into Sao Paulo, and to have stranded it north of the river without means of getting supplies.

The attack was said to have been made near the headquarters of General Miguel Costa, commanding the vanguard. His troops, the advices clamed, routed tihe federals.

There was a new element occasioning some surprise in the rebel statement today. This was that a considerable quantity of war material had been captured at Itnto Grossa. Ponta Grossa is just west of Curityba and far within a territory which heretofore had been regarded as exclusively occupied by rebels.

Casualties Reach Capital.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Arrival of the first casualties from the southern front is bringing home to residents of this capital, one of the most beautiful cities of the world, that a blody civil war actually is being fought just a few hundred miles away.

Until now Rio De Janeiro has remained so calm and with so little excitement, beyond that incident of mobilization of volunteer and reserve armies in the outskirts, that war and revolution have been almost unthinkable.

Official communiques have been monotonous, all very much like that of this morning which says that government forces are maintaining their positions without change in all sectors. Sometimes a few details are added, as today, that General Santa Cruz, commanding at Bahia, is cor-ordinating all military elements in that state in preparation for operations he is about to begin.

SPEEDY AUTO RIDE ALONG WASHINGTON STREET PROVES GROUNDS FOR SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—An automobile ride taken by William H. Colt along "O" street, southeast, in the capital on a July day in 1929, has brought a case to the supreme court which may affect the proposal that petty liquor offenders be tried without a jury.

After the law enforcement commission recommended that United States commissioners be given the right to dispose of minor liquor cases, the plan was fought on the ground it was unconstitutional, while it was conceded that in some minor offenses a jury trial was not necessary.

The decision of the court in the Colt case may clarify to some extent the entire question although it has no connection with liquor. Colt was convicted in police court of reckless driving and sentenced to 30 days in jail. He did not deny the charge but demanded a jury trial. This being denied him, he appealed to the District of Columbia court of apepals, which reversed the lower court.

The government, appealing to the supreme court, sought a determination of what class of offenses could, constitutionally, be tried without juries. Its brief said the case might prove of great importance throughout the country "if congress seeks more expeditious enforcement of the laws against minor offenses."

Both government counsel and attorneys for Colt presented formidable precedents and decisions of lower courts.

The law enforcement commission's recommendation for juryless trials as a means for relieving court congestion was embodied in a bill which passed the house at the last session but never was acted upon by the senate.

PLAN NEW FEDERAL PRISON NORTHWEST OF EL PASO SOON

EL PASO, Oct. 22.—(AP)—A new federal prison costing $400,000 may be located northwest of El Paso near the New Mexico state line, Sanford Dates, director of federal prisons, announced last night.

He said his recommendation would be submitted immediately to the secretary of the interior and the attorney general, conditional upon a suitable water supply being provided, and if approved, construction would be started within 90 days.

Bates described the prison as designed to accommodate 400 convicts, sentenced for terms of less than one year. He said the land would be made a part of the Elephant Butte irrigation project.
